

FLORIDA SHERIFF TESTIFIES TO $23 PROFIT ON EACH CONVICT LEASED

Tallahassee Official, Witness in Legislative Inquiry, Tells of His Dealings With Lumber Company in Supplying Prisoners for Work in Camps.

BURIAL OF TABERT TOLD BY EX-CONVICT

Declares Youth, Victim of Flogging, Was Buried in $10 Coffin in a Grave Half Filled With Water, After Wagon Trip.

By the Associated Press.
TALLAHASSEE, Fla., April 17.—Sheriff J. R. Jones of Tallahassee, made a personal profit of approximately $23 on each prisoner leased by this (Leon) County to the Putnam Lumber Co., he testified today before the legislative committee investigating prison conditions in this State as the outgrowth of the death of Marion Tabert of North Dakota.

It was in a camp of the Putnam Co., in Dixie County, where Tabert died. Walter Higginbotham, former whipping boss of the camp, is under indictment for first degree murder as a result of Tabert's death.

Sheriff Jones was before the committee for more than an hour when he resumed his hearings today and testified that between Aug. 15, 1921, and Dec. 31, 1922, he transferred to the Putnam camp a total number of 153 prisoners. He declared that the lumber company had made a contract with the Leon County Commissioners to lease prisoners and that he had entered into an agreement with W. H. Fisher, superintendent of the lumber company, to take all prisoners convicted in this county to the camp for which he was to receive $10 a head.

Jones said that Fisher first offered him $15 for each prisoner but he told him that "other sheriffs in the State were receiving that much and that I thought I was entitled to more." The sheriff said that from time to time prisoners were transferred from here to lumber camps at a time he said that it cost approximately $5 a man to make the trip, but his fees for making the arrest and other fees brought his average compensation up to $23.

Officials Knew of Contract.

Jones was asked whether the contract he had with the lumber company was kept a secret from other county officials. He declared that it was made in the presence of members of the county commission, they being that I had the same right as any other individual.

"If a prisoner after he had been leased out desired to pay his fine, who would he pay it to?" Chairman Bones asked.

He would pay it to the Sheriff, Jones replied.

"After Tabert was sentenced and leased to the Putnam Lumber Co., did you not receive a registered letter addressed to Martin Tabert in care of the Sheriff?" the chairman continued.

Harding Fears Serious Labor Shortage; Davis Opposed to Opening Gates to Cheap Workers

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 17.—RESIDENT HARRY DAVIS was said to believe that E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel Corporation, was quite correct in his statement to the corporation's stockholders yesterday that a serious labor shortage was threatened through the operations of the restrictive immigration law.

Stock at third and Hornby at second found themselves surrounded by an entirely new set of opening day companions.

Jeff Pfeffer, whose effectiveness against the Reds has dated from the day of his entry into the National League, was Rickey's pitching selection. He was paired off with Eddy Ainsmith.

Pete Donohue, former Texas University right-hander, was the opposing pitcher. Ivy Wingo, one-time Cardinal, was the Reds' pitcher.

FIGHT BEGUN TO MODIFY CURB ON IMMIGRANT LABOR

Gary Fires First Gun in Campaign to Bring in Foreigners to Check "Competitive Search for Labor."

FLEXIBLE SELECTION SYSTEM PLANNED

U. S. Chamber of Commerce Working on Employers' Problem; Wage Increase Charged to Immigration Law.

By DAVID LAWRENCE.
A Special Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 17.—Judge Elbert H. Gary's denunciation of the present immigration law which prevents European workmen from coming to American shores and relieving the labor shortage is the opening gun in what may become a much more live issue in the next 12 months in American politics than the "open shop" or the tariff.

The advance in wages granted by the steel corporation, it is generally agreed, was due in no small measure to the competitive search for American labor. Gary's view that the present curb on immigration is "one of the worst things economically" United States has ever done, is shared by many business men, and already the United States Chamber of Commerce is at work on a plan to permit a flexible system of selection so that able-bodied workmen may be admitted without allowing a flood of immigration and the attendant evils which helped build up sentiment for the present law.

Protection for American Workmen.

Organized labor has been back of the policy of restricted immigration for many years, arguing that protection to the American workman against the competition of the foreigner was just as essential for labor as for capital, by means of the tariff shuts out imports.

An abundance of European labor exists and, permitted to enter, would naturally enable American industry to get all the labor needed without having to pay competitive prices against each other. Many of America's concerns have scouts searching the country with offers of higher wages to men in foreign trades. This condition is naturally desirable from the viewpoint of organized labor as wages tend to go upward.

But the drive of the United States Chamber of Commerce is not to increase to any substantial extent the number of persons admitted to America, but to exercise more care in the selection of the types eligible for admission. As it is still will be assured of a steady supply of foreign workmen, and so that the costs of production will not go so high as to damage the fabric of the system itself, for there can be a limit to high labor costs, because companies will not find it profitable to operate on as large scale as at present.

WOULD MAKE IT 5 PER CENT.

The Committee of the United States Chamber of Commerce takes the present law, which permits 2 per cent of the existing proportion of aliens to enter, and would add a possible 2 per cent. The number of immigrants at present admissible by the 3 per cent quota system is 357,693. By making it 5 per cent, the Government would only be 238,536 more. It is not assumed that even this number would actually come as some of the United States and Western Europe last year fell below quotas.

Under the proposed plan, mental and moral suitability of immigrants and that the standards should be made with due recognition of kinds of immigrants most needed in America. If, for instance, there is a shortage of skilled workmen, every effort would be made to secure information in those countries where a desirable class of labor might be obtainable.

BISHOP TUTTLE DIES OF GRIP AT AGE OF 86 YEARS

Was Head of Episcopal Diocese of Missouri and Senior Bishop of the Church in U. S.

BISHOP JOHNSON IS HIS SUCCESSOR

Survived by Two Sons, Dr. G. M. and Arthur Tuttle; Bells of Cathedral Toll Announcement.

Bishop Daniel Sylvester Tuttle, 86 years old, head of the Protestant Episcopal diocese of Missouri, and senior bishop of the church in the United States, died at 2 o'clock this afternoon at his home, 74 Vandeventer place, from an attack of grip which began Feb. 28.

The funeral will be held probably Friday afternoon, in Christ Church Cathedral, Thirteenth and Locust streets. It is expected that a large number of bishops will be present. Telling of the Cathedral bells was begun soon after the news of the bishop's death was received at the diocesan offices in Schuyler Memorial House. Prayers for his recovery had been offered in the Cathedral daily, and in all the Episcopal churches of the diocese every Sunday, since the serious character of his illness became known.

Survived by Two Sons.

Dr. Tuttle and Arthur Tuttle, a mining engineer in Mexico, are the surviving sons of the Bishop. Mrs. Tuttle died in 1899. Her sisters, Mrs. Sarah White and Mrs. G. D. B. Miller, the latter being the widow of a St. Louis clergyman, have been in charge of the Bishop's home in recent years.

Bishop Frederick Foote Johnson becomes, by automatic process, the Bishop of Missouri, succeeding Bishop Tuttle, to whom he had been designated last fall. Bishop Johnson is 55 years old, and was consecrated as Bishop in 1904, serving in the diocese of South Dakota before he came here. He lives at 5338 Enright avenue. He is related to the late Mrs. Tuttle, whose maiden name was Foote.

As coadjutor, Bishop Johnson has, in recent years, relieved Bishop Tuttle of most of the work of visiting the parishes outside of St. Louis. The diocese of Missouri, as it is still officially termed, includes the eastern part of the State, the remainder being in the diocese of Western Missouri.

Arrangements for Bishop Tuttle's funeral will have to take account of the attendance of members of the House of Bishops who live at a considerable distance, and probably of representatives of the church in the Far Western states, where Bishop Tuttle, as a pioneer prelate, spent the first and most memorable part of his ministry.

He was a Bishop since 1867. The diocese of Missouri, as it is still officially termed, includes the eastern part of the State, the remainder being in the diocese of Western Missouri.

The selection of Curry as assistant was brought about through the support of Senator Spencer, and Spencer is believed to have backed him also for the appointment as District Attorney.

Curry is 52 years old, and is a native of Wayne County, Ill. He was brought up in Southern Missouri, and was admitted to the bar in Dent County in 1886. He was prosecuting attorney of Perry County for eight years and edited a paper in Perryville. More recently he practiced law in Poplar Bluff. He is married and has 7 children. The family lives at 5117 Garfield avenue.

ROSS USED $28,250 OF BANK ASSETS IN OWN DEAL

Night and Day Liquidation Officer Drew Check Nov. 28 for Amount Which Was Later Transferred by Telegraph to Kansas City to Pay for Bank Stock.

SIDENER TO GO BEFORE GRAND JURY TODAY

Circuit Attorney to Attempt to Obtain Indictment Charging Embezzlement—Audit of Accounts Not Yet Completed.

At least $28,250 of liquidation assets of the Night and Day Bank were used by Donald W. Ross, fugitive liquidation officer, to purchase control and elevate himself to the presidency of the West Side State Bank of Kansas City.

This fact will be among the first submitted today to the grand jury in support of an effort of Circuit Attorney Sidener to obtain an indictment of Ross, charging embezzlement. The form of charge to be made against Ross, based upon the shortage of $70,279 or more in his liquidation accounts, was determined upon yesterday by Sidener after reviewing evidence with the State Finance Commissioner and his attorneys and accountants.

Drew Check on Nov. 28.

Ross, on last Nov. 28, drew a check upon Night and Day Bank assets for $28,250 and signed it as Special Deputy State Finance Commissioner in charge of the liquidation. It was payable to the First National Bank of St. Louis. That institution, upon Ross' instruction, issued a certified check for $28,500, payable to the Western Union Telegraph Co.

It was learned in Kansas City today that the money was telegraphed by the Western Union company to the Commerce Trust Co. of Kansas City, where 610 shares of the stock in the West Side State Bank were in escrow for delivery to Ross upon his payment of that sum, a balance on the purchase price of $28,250.

Mentioned "Backers."

The stock had been assembled in the Commerce Trust Co. by Z. T. Briggs, a Kansas City merchant, who had been a director of the West Side bank. Ross, at the time the money was delivered to the Commerce Trust Co., said that its source was "St. Louis backers."

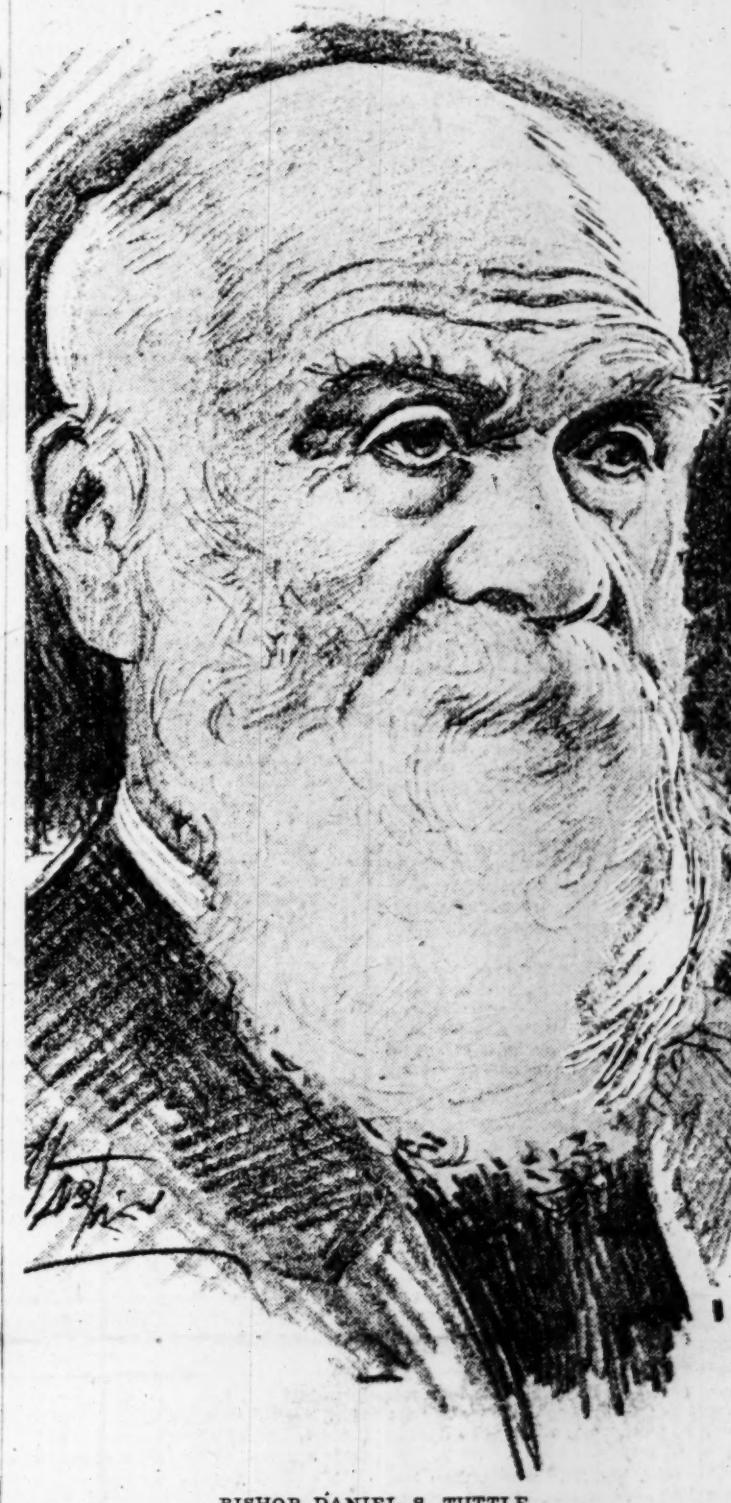

The failure of the West Side bank a month after he became president caused Ross to lose the $28,250 cash and apparently to lose, in addition, $50,000 or more of securities which he also supplied to protect the bank's loan paper which eventually caused the bank to close.

A curious recollection, in view of this disclosure, is that on Nov. 28, the day on which Ross drew the $28,250, he was in Circuit Court here as an important State witness for the prosecution of President Hohenschuldt, president of the Night and Day Bank, on a charge of assisting to the receipt of deposits when he knew the bank to be defunct.

One of the questions involving prosecution of Ross decided yesterday by the Circuit Court was that venue was in St. Louis and not Kansas City, as was considered possible. Circuit Attorney Sidener decided that improper diversion of the liquidation assets occurred when the $28,250 was turned over by the First National Bank to the telegraph company at Ross' instruction.

Sidener was not hopeful that he would obtain an immediate indictment of Ross, chiefly because development of all the facts awaits the completion of the audit of his administration now in progress. State Finance Commissioner Milligan recently said that the $70,279, named by him in his announcement of the shortage, apparently did not constitute the entire shortage and that the audit was necessary to establish the definite total sum. The $70,279, he said, was the sum of checks which were "gloriously evident" to be not for the benefit of the liquidation. Ten days have lapsed since discovery of the shortage. It was anticipated.

ALLEN CURRY NEW U. S. ATTORNEY IN ST. LOUIS

Assistant in Office Here Since March Last Year to Succeed J. E. Carroll.

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, April 17.—Allen Curry was appointed today by President Harding to be United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Missouri.

Curry First Republican Assistant Appointed by Carroll.

Curry, whose home is in Poplar Bluff, has been an assistant to District Attorney Carroll since March 1, 1922. He was the first Republican appointed by Carroll, in the period in which Carroll, a Democrat, has held over under the Harding administration. Later, Carroll appointed another Republican, William J. Blasse, as an assistant.

The selection of Curry as assistant was brought about through the support of Senator Spencer, and Spencer is believed to have backed him also for the appointment as District Attorney.

Curry is 52 years old, and is a native of Wayne County, Ill. He was brought up in Southern Missouri, and was admitted to the bar in Dent County in 1886. He was prosecuting attorney of Perry County for eight years and edited a paper in Perryville. More recently he practiced law in Poplar Bluff. He is married and has 7 children. ## DEPUTY AND U. S. DRY AGENT SLAIN BY LIQUOR RUNNERS

Bodies Found on Bridge Near New Orleans—One of Runners Reported Shot.

By the Associated Press.
NEW ORLEANS, April 17.—A Deputy Sheriff and a prohibition officer were shot and killed in a fight with liquor runners at the Lake Borgne Canal Bridge near Violet, La., early today, according to a report received at police headquarters. The dead are Deputy Sheriff "Red" Edouard of St. Bernard Parish and Federal Prohibition Officer August Etevel.

A body was found at each end of the bridge. It was reported that one of the runners received a bullet wound. The runners have not been captured.

PARIS AGAIN DRAWING UP MINIMUM REPARATIONS

While Germany Still Expresses Approval of the Hughes Assessment by Experts Plan, France Is Declared Unwilling Even to Consider It.

OCCUPATION ALLIES TIGHTEN RUHR HOLD

Germans Expect More Pits to Be Taken Over This Week; Rhineland Commission Orders 1000 Railroad Men Expelled.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the New York Times, April 17.—The French government yesterday announced that it had decided to tighten its hold on the Ruhr by taking over more pits and by expelling 1,000 railroad men.

PARIS, April 17.—Premier Poincaré with financial officials of the Government attended the opening session at the Foreign Office yesterday of the French and Belgian reparations commission delegates who met to draw up the minimum indemnity schedule to be handed Germany when she asks for terms.

The plan, the correspondent is informed on the highest authority, is based on that taken by Louis Loucheur to Cannes 15 months ago. Under it in part France claims 25,000,000 gold marks ($5,500,000,000), 14,000,000,000 going to Belgium and Italy and 10,000,000,000 to England. It also claims it.

Only the Ruhr and newly occupied territory on the right bank of the Rhine will be evacuated as payments are made in cash and kind. Evacuation of the Rhineland has now been definitely separated from the question of payments by Germany. It will be held as a bargaining asset when later the French think the moment is right for tackling the problem of security, which does not concern the Poincaré Cabinet at all now.

The correspondent is informed that while the French are glad to receive Karl Bergmann's reparations plan, drawn up for but not presented at the January conference, under no circumstances will France acquiesce in the Secretary Hughes' project of reparations assessment by experts.

German Scheme No Basis for Negotiations, Say the French

PARIS, April 17.—The French government yesterday declared that the German reparations plan, drawn up for but not presented at the January conference, under no circumstances will France acquiesce in the Secretary Hughes' project of reparations assessment by experts.

More German Functionaries Are Ordered Expelled

of the selective plan, however, think they will be able to demonstrate to organized labor that the selective program will help rather than hurt their cause.

The Harding administration cannot afford politically to align itself against organized labor on the eve of a presidential election, though strenuous efforts are being made by Republican business men to draw the President to their side of the age-old conflict. Immigration contains the ingredients of a great political struggle, and Judge Gary's speech is the forerunner of what will be heard when the United States Chamber of Commerce discusses the immigration problem at its annual meeting in New York three weeks from today.

Pioneer Church Work in Early Days of West Gained Distinction for Bishop Tuttle

Young Missionary Bishop Slept With Revolver Under Pillow on His First Trip Through the Indian Country.

Dr. Charles A. Tuttle, teacher of Greek in Columbia, famous in his day as an author of classical textbooks, placed the needy young student in touch with several youths who needed tutoring and, in return, he did this work for two years, earning enough to pay his debts and buy the books he needed for entrance to the General Theological Seminary.

Upon his graduation from the seminary in 1852, he was ordained and preached his first sermon on June 1 of that year in St. Peter's Church, New York. His first pastorate, and his only one, was at Morris, N. Y. He went there to perform the active duties of the pastorate, the rector, the Rev. G. L. Foote, having suffered a paralytic stroke. He lived in the rectory, and the rector divided with him his salary, $200 a year. On the rector's death, in 1863, he was chosen rector, at a salary of $800 a year. He stipulated, in accepting, that he should be paid in full at the end of each year, or that if he should be paid on any deficiency. He found no occasion to charge interest.

While at Morris he received and declined seven calls to other parishes, among which were Quincy, N. Y., Birmingham, Rhine and Oswego, N. Y., the latter offering a salary of $1500. In 1865 his salary at Morris was increased to $1000, and Sept. 12 of that year he married Miss Harriet M. Foote, daughter of his predecessor.

Elected Missionary Bishop, Oct. 5, 1865, the House of Bishops, meeting in New York, elected the young rector of Morris to the office of Bishop of the new diocese of Idaho and Utah. Only two of the Bishops knew him, but these two were among the most influential. They were Bishop Potter—the elder son of the late Bishop of New York and Bishop Whitehouse of Illinois. Both had come to know young Tuttle through his work as a tutor at Columbia, their sons having been his pupils.

The Rev. Mr. Tuttle was then less than 30 years of age, and was therefore under the age at which a Bishop may be ordained. He was in New York at the time of his election. No limitation of his action had been given to him, and when two of his former seminary classmates brought him the news he laughed, believing that they were jesting.

A half hour later, Bishop Potter and another Bishop called, with the official news of the action. Bishop Potter mentioned the matter of age, and said: "Go back to Morris and stay about your duties there until after your next birthday. He followed this advice, and his ordination to the office of Bishop took place in Trinity Chapel, New York, May 1, 1867. At that time his first child, George Marvin Tuttle, now a St. Louis physician, was only a few months old.

His Journey to the West.

All were agreed that the Bishop's family should be left behind, and the Bishop parted from his wife and baby boy at Albany, May 23, 1867. He was not to see them again for 16 months. He preached in the cathedral at New York, and then to North Platte, Neb., up to that time the passenger terminus of the Union Pacific Railroad.

Bishop Tuttle was accompanied on the journey West by the Rev. E. N. Goddard, the Rev. G. D. B. Miller, Mrs. Foote, wife of the Bishop's brother-in-law, the Rev. George W. Foote, who was already in Salt Lake City, and Miss Sarah K. Foote, 15 years old.

At North Platte the Bishop inquired about the five seats in the westbound stage, which he had telegraphed from Omaha. He was told that the stage had failed to arrive, and that Indians were reported to have killed the driver. The party remained five days in North Platte, where, for lack of beds, the three men had to sleep on the hotel floor, the Bishop with his revolver under his pillow.

The stage had been completed shortly before to a point to miles beyond North Platte, and by their way the Bishop and his party rode on the first train that ran over this route. They then crossed the Platte River by flatboat, and with other passengers, got aboard four stage coaches. They carried 25 breech-loading rifles and Bishop Tuttle and the Rev. Mr. Goddard, on the stage top, sat with their rifles across their laps. They passed the place where, a few days before, the driver had been killed, but, being so well armed and flanked by two well-riding scouts, they were not molested. Denver was reached after three days, on June 12, 1867. The party then remained five days in Denver, and the Bishop rode the stage to the service for the day as the stage rolled and pitched over the rough

"Now I Lay Me Down to Sleep," Favorite Prayer of Bishop Tuttle Through Life

BISHOP TUTTLE told a downtown audience at the farewell meeting for the Archbishop of York, a few years ago, what was his favorite prayer.

"In childhood," he said, "I learned, as perhaps you have all learned, to say nightly, 'Now I lay me down to sleep, I pray the Lord my soul to keep.' I have never given up the habit of repeating this prayer. When the time comes, which may not be far away, when I shall commit my soul to the Lord's keeping forever, I hope that I may be able to speak, for the last time, these words."

Called on Brigham Young, One of Bishop Tuttle's first calls was made on Brigham Young. He described Young in a letter to his wife, as pleasant and courteous, but added, "He is so powerful a man in everything he does, and so unscrupulous a man, I fear, in most things, that my policy will be to have as little as possible to do with him."

At a later meeting the Bishop was invited by the Bishop and the Rev. Mr. Foote, who assumed pastoral charge in Salt Lake. The Rev. Mr. Miller proceeded to Boise City, Idaho, and Bishop Tuttle took up his lodgings in Virginia City, then the capital of the Territory. The Rev. Mr. Goddard accompanied him to Montana.

Was Pioneer in Montana.

In Idaho and Utah others of his church had been at work before Bishop Tuttle's arrival. Bishop Tuttle, in Montana, humanly speaking, I built on no other man's foundation. Montana then had 20,000 inhabitants, and Virginia City and Helena were the largest towns. Less than four years before the Vigilantes had ended a reign of terror by hanging 29 men. All but one of these men, the Bishop recorded, had committed at least one murder in Montana, the total number of murders attributed to a gang of robbers and murderers being 102. These men, he declared, would have been found guilty of murder by any legal jury, and he was glad to see that a vicious character, reckless when in drink, and habitually defiant of attempts to preserve order, Bishop Tuttle learned of the work of the Vigilantes from those who had been in the territory. He recorded the approval of it, together with his wonder that the Vigilantes kept themselves free from motives of passion and revenge.

The Bishop's record of the work of the Vigilantes was a record of the territorial House of Representatives, the Legislature being in session that winter. Following his record, that a people should be trained in giving financial support to a church's affairs. This has been provided, in recent years, by the choice of Bishop Gailor of Tennessee as president of the Council of the Church of England in the United States. Bishop Tuttle was for many years under the disability of deafness.

After he became presiding Bishop, Bishop Tuttle was elected to the Church of England as an Archbishop. There is no Archbishop in the Episcopal Church in the United States, but there are two such prelates in the Church of England, one in Canterbury, in the Church of England, and the Church of England officially views the presiding Bishop of the American church as ranking with the Archbishop of Canterbury.

Entertained Archbishop of York.

The Archbishop of York, Primate of England, a wartime visitor to St. Louis, was Bishop Tuttle's guest during his stay.

Since 1912 Bishop Tuttle's statue has stood as one of the sculptured figures in the reredos at the altar of Christ Church Cathedral. It is in a perpendicular row, in which also stand the statues of the four great English prelates, Henry VIII, Thomas Becket, Moses and Daniel. In a similar row at the other side of the altar are Bishop Kemper, first Bishop of Missouri, St. Athanasius, St. Columba, St. Andrew and the Prophet Ezekiel.

The unusual thing about the presence of Bishop Tuttle's statue with the rest was that it was placed there within his lifetime. This was done at the wish of members of the Cathedral congregation, who saw no reason why the space should be left vacant. The reredos, one of the finest monuments of church art in this country, was presented to the Cathedral by Mrs. B. B. Graham.

The 1916 general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church was held in St. Louis, the choice of this city at the time being due largely to a wish to honor Bishop Tuttle, in connection with the semi-centennial of his consecration as Bishop, which was then approaching. At one of its sessions in Moulah Temple, the convention presented a formal memorial to him which set forth his long and distinguished services, and indorsed the plan for the building of a church in St. Louis in honor of his approaching anniversary.

Endowment Fund Started.

A fund for a $50,000 memorial endowment was started in 1914, and St. Mary's Church, Hamilton, and Ridge avenues, was selected as the memorial to be built. A number of wealthy New York men contributed to this fund, as well as leading members of the church in St. Louis.

Became Bishop of Missouri.

May 26, 1886, a telegram from Dean Schuyler of St. Louis informed Bishop Tuttle that he had been elected Bishop of Missouri. He replied, asking that the convention, if still in session, should elect another man. "I am needed here," he added. The reply was that the convention unanimously expressed unwillingness to change its choice, and that it felt Bishop Tuttle was needed in Missouri. After consideration and correspondence, the Bishop announced his acceptance June 16.

The Episcopal Diocese of Missouri was then in fact the Diocese of Missouri, embracing the entire State. The diocese of Western Missouri has since been created. There were 58 Episcopal clergymen and about 6000 communicants in Missouri when Bishop Tuttle took charge of the State-wide diocese. The present diocese of Missouri, the eastern half of the State, now has 14 churches and about 10,000 communicants.

Over 25 years ago, when the State was a territory, the Columbia State said yesterday, in publishing figures on the movement, the emigration this spring has grown to such an extent that the State newspaper said, "The State regards the movement as economic, pointing out that sections suffering most from the boll weevil are experiencing the heaviest emigration."

WHITES IN LEAD IN S. CAROLINA

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 17.—Emigration of negroes to the Northern industrial area has for the first time in a century given South Carolina a pronounced white population. The Columbia State said yesterday, in publishing figures on the movement, the emigration this spring has grown to such an extent that the State newspaper said, "The State regards the movement as economic, pointing out that sections suffering most from the boll weevil are experiencing the heaviest emigration."

Made Senior Bishop in 1903. In 1903, through the death of the Bishop of Rhode Island, Bishop Tuttle became presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States. This position is one of the highest in the church, and has been made from time to time that the office of presiding Bishop should be made elective, though no one proposed that this change should be made until after Bishop Tuttle's death.

For 17 years, he wrote in his autobiography, "I lived in the midst of Mormonism. Mormon Bishops were all polygamists, each ward in the territory had a Mormon Bishop. Salt Lake had its Bishop and his meeting house. It so happened that my residence was almost next door to the Twelfth Ward meeting house. In 1912 he predicted the election of Woodrow Wilson, though himself preferring the Republican Taft.

"Theodore Roosevelt is a great and good man," he said at that time, "but I have lost confidence in the sanity of his judgment. I have confidence in Mr. Wilson, and admire his splendid Americanism."

In the first serious campaign conducted in Missouri for State-wide prohibition of the liquor traffic, in 1890, Bishop Tuttle announced his opposition to the movement, but said that local option had his approval. Local option was local prohibition, by township or county units.

"Local option," he said, "is an American principle," the Bishop said. "State-wide prohibition violates, and local option supports, this principle."

In opposing woman suffrage, he said that he did so for the sake of women, who would find the ballot an added burden, rather than a benefit. He announced, several years before the final enactment of the Federal suffrage amendment, that he recognized the success of the movement was inevitable.

Chopped Wood for Fuel.

Wheaton, Mich., a family resort on the St. Ignace, Mich., Mackinac, in a heavily wooded region, was the Bishop's summer home. Until a few years ago it was his habit to cut down trees, after the fashion of William B. Glavin, and to chop and saw the wood for use as fuel in his cottage.

Twenty-five years ago, in his more active days, he taught many of the boys who visited the resort to swim. Some of them are now business men of St. Louis.

In a visit to Denver in June, 1921, Bishop Tuttle was met with an ancient stage coach, in which the Bishop and his wife and daughter, and a companion of the frontier conditions which he had found there 54 years before, when he was on his way to his mission field.

Bishop Tuttle presided at the opening of the general convention of the church in Portland, Ore., last August, and was the recipient of congratulations from all parts of the country.

BIG GIFT FOR SCHOOLS FOR EAST KENTUCKY MOUNTAINS

$1,000,000 and 16,000 Acres Donated by E. O. Robinson for Educational and Economic Development.

By the Associated Press. FRANKFORT, Ky., April 17.—Educational, agricultural and economic development in the mountain schools of Eastern Kentucky is the purpose for which E. O. Robinson, Fort Thomas (Ky.) capitalist, has donated $1,000,000 and 16,000 acres of land. Announced at a gift ceremony here last night by Judge Ed C. O'Rear, president of the Board of Trustees of the recently incorporated E. O. Robinson Mountain Fund.

The development work is to be carried on under the direction of the University of Kentucky at Lexington. Establishment and maintenance of one or more model schools by the University in the mountain territory, in which special attention is to be given to horticultural subjects, is planned.

Robinson was seeking, Judge O'Rear said, a method of applying the money and land so that the greatest benefit would accrue to the people of the mountains.

WHITES IN LEAD IN S. CAROLINA

By the Associated Press.

COLUMBIA, S. C., April 17.—Emigration of negroes to the Northern industrial area has for the first time in a century given South Carolina a pronounced white population. The Columbia State said yesterday, in publishing figures on the movement, the emigration this spring has grown to such an extent that the State newspaper said, "The State regards the movement as economic, pointing out that sections suffering most from the boll weevil are experiencing the heaviest emigration."

Made Senior Bishop in 1903. In 1903, through the death of the Bishop of Rhode Island, Bishop Tuttle became presiding Bishop of the Protestant Episcopal Church in the United States. This position is one of the highest in the church, and has been made from time to time that the office of presiding Bishop should be made elective, though no one proposed that this change should be made until after Bishop Tuttle's death.

For 17 years, he wrote in his autobiography, "I lived in the midst of Mormonism. Mormon Bishops were all polygamists, each ward in the territory had a Mormon Bishop. Salt Lake had its Bishop and his meeting house. It so happened that my residence was almost next door to the Twelfth Ward meeting house. In 1912 he predicted the election of Woodrow Wilson, though himself preferring the Republican Taft.

"Theodore Roosevelt is a great and good man," he said at that time, "but I have lost confidence in the sanity of his judgment. I have confidence in Mr. Wilson, and admire his splendid Americanism."

In the first serious campaign conducted in Missouri for State-wide prohibition of the liquor traffic, in 1890, Bishop Tuttle announced his opposition to the movement, but said that local option had his approval. Local option was local prohibition, by township or county units.

"Local option," he said, "is an American principle," the Bishop said. "State-wide prohibition violates, and local option supports, this principle."

In opposing woman suffrage, he said that he did so for the sake of women, who would find the ballot an added burden, rather than a benefit. He announced, several years before the final enactment of the Federal suffrage amendment, that he recognized the success of the movement was inevitable.

Bilbo Tells Why He Ignored Court Summons

Former Governor of Mississippi Quotes His Plea of Guilty in Federal Court in Reply to Inquiry by the Post-Dispatch.

When the Associated Press brought the dispatch yesterday afternoon from Oxford, Miss., announcing that former Gov. Theodore Bilbo had been committed to jail for 30 days by Judge Holmes of the Federal Court for failing to respond to a summons to testify as a witness for the complainant, Miss Frances Birkhead, in a seduction suit for $100,000 against Gov. Lee M. Russell of Mississippi, the Post-Dispatch asked him for a statement of his side of the case by telegraph. The following reply was received today:

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

OXFORD, Miss., April 17.—In reply to your telegram I am submitting statement made in open court. "May I please say, your honor, technically and strictly speaking, I am guilty of the charge preferred and it is not my purpose to play with the Court with any frivolous defenses. No man in Mississippi has a higher respect and a more profound regard for the process of this Court and all other courts than I do, and in entering a plea of guilty I want to assure this honorable Court that I am profoundly sorry that my abhorrence of having any further connection with the dirty controversy to which I was subpoenaed tempted me to evade the process of the Court."

"And again I am going to be perfectly frank with the Court in stating that, when I received this change to appear as a witness for the plaintiff, who had, as I understood, taken the plaintiff's oath, I was not advised at the time of the recent change of the Federal law on absent witnesses."

As the plaintiff failed to provide expenses as the old law required I purposed to take advantage of this fact and therefore have no connection whatsoever with the nauseating affair. I dare say that few lawyers in the State were advised of this change in the Federal law. I can think of no other case where would cause me to evade the orderly processes of this honorable Court or my oath as a witness. But I am sure that there is not a decent man or woman in the State that would censure me for the desire to wash my hands clean of this dirty, unfortunate, disgraceful and contemptible affair."

A fine of $100 additional was imposed by Judge Holmes, who characterized the offense as a "willful and conspicuous defiance of the law."

My brethren, the attorneys for both the plaintiff and the defendant in the Russell-Bilbo case, knew that I was an attorney and that all that I knew about the case that would have been competent and pertinent on the trial of the case was privileged communication and, therefore, ethically I could not testify and I was surprised that any of them would make a motion to cite me for my failure to appear.

In conclusion, I want to assure this honorable Court that I am profoundly sorry that my course was placed me in this attitude and with humble and profound apologies for my seeming contempt I am now ready to suffer whatever, in the light of all facts and conditions surrounding this case, the penalty of this honorable Court shall be.

There is nothing to do but to comply with the sentence of the Court. The Court's orders shall be obeyed by no matter who goes to jail. Let me express the hope that my fate will have a tendency at least to inspire a more wholesome respect for authority of the courts of our country. If it will, then my few days in jail is not in vain.

THEODORE G. BILBO.

Bilbo Has Cozy Quarters in Jail at Oxford, Miss.

By the Associated Press.

OXFORD, Miss., April 17.—Theodore G. Bilbo, former Governor of Mississippi and central figure in the State's politics for a dozen years, awoke in the Lafayette County Jail here today facing 29 days more of imprisonment. A sentence of 30 days was imposed on him yesterday by Judge Holmes of the Federal Court, after the former executive had pleaded guilty of contempt of court in disregarding a summons to appear as a witness in the Russell-Birkhead case last fall.

Bilbo, who was expected to be the star witness for the plaintiff, Miss Frances Birkhead of New Orleans, in her suit against Gov. Lee M. Russell of Mississippi, failed to appear, though sought by Federal deputies. Miss Birkhead charged seduction and asked for $100,000 damages. A jury found for the defendant.

In his cozy quarters, vacated by the jailer and his family for the prisoner's use, Bilbo last night smoked a cigar, received his friends and wrote letters. "The door was unlocked and the windows without bars. All evidence of physical restraint had been eliminated. A fine of $100 additional was imposed by Judge Holmes, who characterized the offense as a "willful and conspicuous defiance of the law."

My brethren, the attorneys for both the plaintiff and the defendant in the Russell-Bilbo case, knew that I was an

RAIL MERGER PLAN TO GO TO NEXT CONGRESS

Consolidations Only Solution, Senator Cummins Says After Seeing President.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, April 17.— Legislation to make effective the plan being worked out by the Interstate Commerce Commission for consolidation and regional superintendence of the railroad systems of the country will be undertaken in the next Congress, Chairman Cummins of the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee said today after a discussion of the railroad problem with President Harding.

Senator Cummins declared the proposed consolidation was the only solution short of Government ownership was not to be considered. "It is the only method of the railroad system of the country," he said, "which will bring down freight rates on commodities on which the rate must be lowered."

The conference was preliminary to the intensive study the President expects to give to the railroad situation prior to his transcontinental speaking trip, during which he has indicated he will devote one or more addresses to railroads.

The Interstate Commerce Commission was directed by the transportation act to make a study of the proposition of regional consolidation and this survey has been in progress for more than a year. The plan seems to be the only method of bringing down freight rates on commodities on which the rate must be lowered.

The Iowa Senator also discussed briefly with the President appointments to the three vacancies on the railroad labor board.

RAY RENARD FR OF BANK ROBB AT THIRD TR

Member of "Egan's Gang Identified by One of Men Who Held East Alton Institution

HIS ALIBI WITNESSES ONLY DEFENSE A

Verdict Returned by J. Edwardsville After Deliberated for Hours.

Ray Renard, a gangster with "Egan's Gang," was a jury in the Madison Circuit Court at Edwardsville, Mo., today of participation in the holdup of Illinois State Bank at Alton, Feb. 15. The jury deliberated for hours.

He had twice been indicted on each occasion failed to agree. Alibi witnesses the fact that only one of the sons in the bank at the holdup, a girl, was able to identify Renard as one of the State's witnesses.

Verdict Not a Surprise

The case was given to the jury at 11 a. m. After deliberating the jury recessed until 1 p. m. The verdict was not expected, as State's Attorney had requested to newspaper men that he had no hope of conviction. Renard met his mother in a courthouse corridor after the verdict was returned. He threw his arms about her and said "Thank God." He was surrounded by friends who had come from St. Louis in automobiles. The police did not interfere.

The State finished its case tonight and this morning was up with alibi testimony. The reproduction of evidence in the form of a transcript of the testimony of the State's Attorney, Renard was at the Tenth street, St. Louis, during the holdup.

Identified by Girl. After Cashier Herschel Greig was shot and killed, Renard described the robbery. $1319 in cash and $700 in bonds were stolen. Miss Wagoner, former stenographer of the bank, identified Renard as one of the men who held up the bank. East Alton, identified Renard as one of the robbers.

Greene and Lorton were indicted on the charge of being accessories after the fact. They were held in three men pointed revolvers and commanded them to get out of the room.

Miss Megawen testified that she and the bank as in robbery leaving and that Renard pointed revolver at her as he was leaving.

Didn't Mention Faint. At the other trial Miss Megawen testified that she did not mention the fact that Renard was at the bank. She did not mention the fact that Renard was at the bank. She did not mention the fact that Renard was at the bank.

Rules of evidence bar a witness from testifying about the State's Attorney, therefore unable to frame his question a way that it would remind Megawen of her having been at the bank. She was asked why she had that detail and she replied had slipped her mind.

Already Under Two Sentences. Renard did not stand in the present trial of former trials. He is under to serve seven years in a prison for theft from an Illinois bank. He is also under for nine months in the St. Louis penitentiary for carrying a revolver. He pleaded both cases.

His mother, Mrs. Rose Layton, testified that she was at home all of Feb. 15. Otto and wife of 2515 North Third street testified that he was on his automobile in the rear home. John M. Tardie, a St. Louis physician, said brought two suits of clothes shop in to be pressed the morning of Feb. 15, 1922.

Henry Ruhmann and Lilian were jointly indicted with Renard in connection with a robbery at East Alton. Renard was acquitted in November. The jury failed to agree on his previous trial. The woman, who is at liberty on $10,000 bond, is awaiting in the next section of the court. She was charged with the robbery, but the jury acquitted her on a technicality.

IMMIGRATION LAWS WORST THINGS THAT EVER HAPPENED IN U. S., E. H. GARY SAYS

America Faced by Labor Shortage, He Asserts, While There Is Great Abundance on Other Side of World Glad to Come Here and Develop Our Resources.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 17.—America is faced by a shortage of labor, due principally to the laws restricting immigration, E. H. Gary, chairman of the board of the United States Steel Corporation, told stockholders at the annual meeting in Hoboken yesterday.

"In my judgment," said Chairman Gary, "these laws are the worst things that have ever happened in this country, economically. There is a great abundance of labor on the other side of the world, and we are glad to come here and develop our resources."

The annual report of the corporation presented at the meeting showed a total undivided surplus of $14,331,414, compared with $13,222,444 in 1927.

Gross earnings in 1927 were $11,052,697.72, compared with $9,881,749.71 in 1926, an increase of $1,171,948.01.

Wages paid in 1927 totaled $322,653,219, compared with $314,331,414 in 1926, an increase of $8,887,785.

Chairman Gary refused to discuss Europe or his recent trip abroad.

"I shall have something to say at the annual meeting next month of the American Iron and Steel Institute, where 2000 stockholders can hear me," he said.

Discussing the position of the corporation in the steel industry, Gary said:

"There is one thing that must be borne in mind about the corporation and that is that all its affairs are always open and aboveboard. Our affairs are published so that stockholders know what is going on as soon as the officers' report is made."

Identified by Girl.

After Cashier Herschel Greene and his assistant, M. W. Horton, had been identified by a girl who said she was the one who had been in the bank at the time of the robbery, the jury returned its verdict.

Miss Megowen testified that she entered the bank as the robbers were leaving and that Renard pointed a revolver at her as he was backing out.

Didn't Mention Fainting.

At the other trials Miss Megowen told of having fainted when she saw the robbers. She said she was in the bank at the time of the robbery, and that she saw the robbers.

Rules of evidence bar attorneys from asking leading questions and from asking questions which suggest the answer.

After she had left the witness stand, she was asked what she had said to the jury about the robbery.

Renard did not take the witness stand in the present trial, or at his former trials. He is under sentence to serve seven years in a Federal prison for theft from an interstate shipment, and also under sentence to six months in the St. Louis jail for carrying a revolver.

His mother, Mrs. Rose Lewis, testified that he was in and about his home at 215 N. 13th St. on the night of Feb. 15, 1927.

John M. Tarde, a tailor, at 1461 St. Louis avenue, said Renard brought two suits of clothes to his shop to be pressed the morning of Feb. 15, 1927.

Harry Ruhmann and Lillian Chesney were jointly indicted with Renard in connection with the bank robbery at East Alton.

Harry Ruhmann was acquitted in November, 1922. The jury failed to agree in Renard's previous trials. The Chesney woman, who is at liberty under a $10,000 bond, is awaiting trial. She was indicted on the theory of having shared in the loot.

Joining Charges Against Ringe Dropped Because He Was Wandering.

A charge of vagrancy against Elmer Ringe, member of the "Egan's Rats" gang, was nolle prossed in Police Court today when it was discovered he had been charged under the wrong section of the ordinance.

Ringe was charged with loitering, but the arresting detective testified he had seen him loitering from one saloon to another on Cass avenue.

The charge had to be changed to wandering, the City Counselor decided, so the charge at bar was dropped. A new information will be filed charging Ringe with wandering.

WEDDING SECRET OUT, ONE MAN IN HOSPITAL

Housewarming Plans of Post-office Clerks Upset When Bridegroom Uses Fists.

Joseph Kral, a night clerk at the main Postoffice, has been taking intensive physical training lately. Neighbors living near his bungalow at 5116 Beacon avenue have seen him working out with a punching bag in the back yard, or sprinting up and down the street in athletic attire.

Just why he should need this exercise the neighbors did not know. There has been a good deal of work to do about the bungalow, which would give sufficient exercise to most young husbands.

Kral was married last August to Miss Helen Lemmon, also a night clerk at the Postoffice. However, the neighbors reflected, indoor work is very confining, and perhaps a doctor had prescribed the exercise.

Kral had a reason, but it was not a physician's order. He and his wife had planned to keep their marriage a secret from their fellow employees at the office until they should have their bungalow fixed up just as they wanted it.

Then, on some Sunday afternoon in June they expected to invite "the bunch" out to celebrate both their marriage and the housewarming.

At the office, Mrs. Kral continued to be known as Miss Helen Lemmon. About three months ago Adolph Altheide went to work at the office. He admitted the young woman, and made this fact plain to her that she finally told him she was married, but that she wished to have nothing said about it.

After that, Altheide continued to seek conversations with her and began in addition to taunt and ridicule Kral.

Kral said that after some fruitless remonstrances he thought the matter over, then undertook the course of physical training. About 2 a. m. today, after both he and Altheide had left the postoffice, Kral met Altheide on Eighteenth street, alongside Union Station, and without preliminaries, swung his right to Altheide's face. He followed with four more blows.

Altheide, at the City Hospital a few hours later, said he did not see Kral, and that he did not know what had struck him. His first impression was that the station tower had fallen on him. His nose is broken, both eyes are blackened and his face is swollen with bruises.

Altheide said he had sought to pay attention to the young woman known to him as Miss Lemmon until he learned that she was married. After that, he declared, he did not know what he was doing.

Both Kral and Altheide served overseas in the war. There is little difference in their height or weight.

Kral was arrested and must appear in police court tomorrow. What seems to worry him more is that the plans for the June housewarming party have been spoiled. Both Kral and Altheide served overseas in the war. There is little difference in their height or weight.

Both were walking past the postoffice when they were ordered to halt by three men standing guard outside. They did not obey and were fired upon with rifles and shotguns. Wilkerson's wounds are expected to prove fatal.

The bandits failed to obtain any loot and fled in an automobile after the shooting. They are believed to have headed eastward and are being searched for by the police.

3 MILE-LONG RUNWAYS PLANNED FOR AIR MEET

Col. A. T. Perkins Tells of Improvements to Be Made at Bridgeton Flying Field.

Three runways, each a mile long by 1000 feet wide, are to be constructed on the enlarged St. Louis Flying Field, at Bridgeton, St. Louis County, which is to be the scene of the National Aeronautic Association meet and Pulitzer trophy contest, the first week in October.

Col. A. T. Perkins, chairman of the Grounds Committee of the St. Louis Air Board, told the Flying Club of St. Louis, at its meeting last night at Hotel Chase, of the plans for improvement of the field, to which a large annex has been added for the special requirements of the coming meet.

"The requirements for the grading work have now been fixed," Col. Perkins said. "This has been done by the laying out of three runways, which at their intersection form a sort of basin, to which the slope of the field must conform, with no undulations to interfere. This problem of grading covers about 400 acres."

"A creek which crosses the annexed portion of the field will have to be shortened, and put into a 24-inch or perhaps a 36-inch pipe. This should take care of the normal flow of water of that time of year, as we have computed it from tables covering 42 years."

"The location of the pylons has been fixed, and this enables us to locate the seating space for spectators. Of course, there can be no spectators in the line of the runways, or of the turning at the pylons."

Pylons 65 Feet High.

"The pylons will be 65 feet high, 24 feet square at the base and six feet at the top, with a cross arm on top. The positions of the six hangars and the machine shop have also been determined. Telephone and water supply plans are being worked out, and we are about ready to proceed with the fencing, which will be about six miles in length. Percy Redmond, general manager of the southwestern Bell Telephone Co., has been added to the Committee on Grounds."

The Flying Club is increasing its membership, 38 having been added in the past month. The club members will be guests of the officers of Scott Field at an inspection, dinner and hop, April 27.

ORCHESTRA HEARD BY 73,000 ON TOUR

Forty-Eight Concerts Given in Ten States—Financial Profit Shown.

Director Ganz, Manager Macmillen and 56 members of the Symphony Orchestra arrived at 9:10 o'clock this morning from West Frankfort, Ill., where the organization completed the first lap of its spring tour with matinee and evening concerts yesterday. It will leave Friday night for Springfield, Mo., to begin the second half of its itinerary.

Departing from St. Louis on March 20, the orchestra has given 48 concerts in 24 cities and towns, in the 10 states of Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Tennessee, Kentucky and Illinois. The aggregate audiences totaled approximately 73,000, according to figures supplied by Manager Macmillen, and the gross receipts exceeded $44,000, leaving the orchestra, for the first time in the records of its travels, without a deficit, but with a small margin of profit.

Many Children Attended.

At least half of the total attendance consisted of school children, said Macmillen, and in most of the places these were the first orchestral concerts for juveniles ever given. Members of the local school boards were invariably present, and expressed themselves as having gained new ideas of the importance of music training in the schools, which they propose to put into effect in the future.

The programs for children were of the same type as those prevailing in the Post-Dispatch free concert series in St. Louis, and on one occasion Director Ganz made a preliminary talk concerning the music to be played, causing individual performers to stand, display their instruments and play a few notes so that the throngs might be recognized in the ensuing compositions.

"At Dallas," said Macmillen, "the children crowded about the platform after the concert, and one little girl asked Mr. Ganz to kiss her, saying she had made a bet with her teacher that he would. After that he had to kiss all the little girls and shake hands with the boys, while some of the teachers, in the rear, asked whether there was an age limit."

Return Engagements Booked.

The largest attendance in one locality was for two concerts in Knoxville, Tenn., where there were about 13,000 paid admissions. It was said that the orchestra is assured of two pairs of concerts, and possibly three, in Kansas City next season. More engagements are being booked.

The popularity of the orchestra, said Macmillen, "is shown by the fact that in every town where we had a minimum guarantee the receipts exceeded the figure, with the single exception of Louisville. In a great many cases sold-out houses greeted us."

THREE MURALS FOR CAPITOL DOME ARRIVE

Installation Will Be Under the Direction of Charles Rinschiede of New York.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, April 17.—The first three of the capitol decorations to be done by Frank Brangwyn, distinguished Welsh artist, arrived in Jefferson City today from London.

They are to cover the huge pendentives of the dome, 44 feet wide at the top, 13 feet at the bottom and 22 feet high. One more pendentive, and the canvas, 26 feet in diameter, which is to cover the eye of the dome are expected within 10 days. Illustrated in the rotogravure section of last Sunday's Post-Dispatch, the pendentives portray four broad subdivisions of the history of Missouri: "The Landing of LaSalle," "The Coming of the White Man," "The Building of the Home," and "Modern Missouri."

The three pendentives came packed in one case. Their weight was 1,650 pounds and the size of the case such as to compel the Missouri Pacific railroad to provide a special car for their transportation.

The task of affixing the huge canvases to the walls has necessitated the erection of movable scaffolds in the rotunda of the capitol. The installation will be directed by Charles Rinschiede of New York, who will be paid $550.

Miss Sophie McCord, appraiser in the Internal Revenue office at St. Louis, arrived in Jefferson City to inspect and formally release the painting in behalf of the Federal Government. Arthur A. Kincaid of St. Louis, secretary of the Capitol Decorations Commission, is here to receive them for the commission. Brangwyn, besides his five large canvases now completed will paint eight other murals for the capitol dome, to be installed near its base. In these paintings Brangwyn has chosen to portray labor as the rock upon which the State's material greatness is founded. He is famous for his figures of men at work.

DETECTIVE CHIEF OF E. ST. LOUIS, 4 OFFICERS, OUSTED

"Good of Service" Is Cause Given by the Fire and Police Board for Dismissals.

The East St. Louis Chief of Detectives and four Lieutenants of Police, who were involved last spring in an investigation of police third degree methods and the death in his cell of John Campanella, a prisoner, were dismissed from the Police Department last night, as was forecast exclusively by the Post-Dispatch two weeks ago.

The Board of Fire and Police Commissioners made the dismissal and adoption of a resolution that the cause as "good of the service." The removals become effective at once.

The dismissed officers are Chief of Detectives James Neill and Lieutenants Henry C. Bishop, Joseph J. Shriver, Harry E. Walker and Albert Wilson.

This was the second step of the new Democratic administration in the police department, forecast by the Post-Dispatch. The Mayor and newly-elected Commissioners made their election campaign on an issue of more efficiency in the Police Department and prosecution of organized vice.

The first step in this direction was acceptance of the resignation of Chief of Police Mulhearn. A Sergeant is acting as Chief of Police, pending the appointment of a successor.

Other officers involved in the Campanella investigation who are marked to go and who probably will be dismissed at the meeting of the Police Board next Monday night, are Sgt. Matthew O'Flaherty and Detectives Harry A. Schuetz and Eugene Helig.

Inquiry into Campanella's death. All these men, including Chiefs Mulhearn and Neill, comprise the group who, on May 1, 1932, were the subject of a report by a former Police Board, in which their resignations were demanded following the investigation of the death of Campanella.

The City Council unanimously voted for the investigation, but when the Police Board made its report, Commissioners William J. Voach, Fred Leber and Arthur O'Leary, who were defeated last month for reelection, set the report aside, fired the Police Board and appointed another board that reinstated the officers.

Mayor M. M. Stephens and Commissioner N. J. Whalen, who were re-elected April 2, characterized the action of Commissioners Voach, Leber and O'Leary as high-handed, in view of the fact that they fired the board for what they had ordered the board to do.

Campanella was found hanging in his cell. The police reported that he had committed suicide. An autopsy continued on next page.

BLOCKS PRINTERS' STRIKE
Associated Press.
CHICAGO, April 17.—A telephone strike by the Chicago telephone company and printers' union has caused a serious interruption of the city's telephone service. The strike was caused by a dispute over a new contract for the printers' union. The union demands a 10% increase in wages and a shorter work day. The company refuses to grant these demands. The strike has caused a serious interruption of the city's telephone service. Many businesses and homes are unable to communicate. The union leaders say they will continue the strike until their demands are met.

disclosed that death was caused by blows on the head.
Leahy in Nevill's Place.
Four men, all former members of the Police Department, were appointed probationary patrolmen last night to fill the vacancies created by the clean-up resolution. They are Joseph Freiz, Adolph Bowers, John Neiman and Michael Dumphy. Lieutenant of Police James Leahy, head of the Police Department, was appointed acting Chief of Detectives pending appointment of a successor to Nevill.
Nevill has been in the department since 1903, and would have been eligible to pension May 4 next. He and the others who were dismissed said they would consult counsel with a view to protesting the action of the Police Board.
Four detectives who were instructed Saturday by Mayor Stephens, who is executive head of the Police Department, to order gamblers, bootleggers and undesirable women to leave the city, today reported that women inmates of 44 houses were told to get out and were complying with the order. Eighteen of these women are negroes.
The report says that all saloons and rooming houses were warned against gambling and violation of the prohibition laws. Acting Chief Moore said an investigation would be made from time to time to prevent the return of undesirable and the opening of gambling houses.

MRS. HONORE WILLISIE TO MARRY
By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, April 17.—Mrs. Honore Willisie, author and feminist leader, will become the bride of William Morrow, treasurer of Fredrick A. Stokes Co., publishers, before the end of the month, the New York World said today.
Mrs. Willisie, who is widely known as a writer of Western adventure stories, is a descendant of New England pioneers of the West. She is a native of Ottumwa, Ia., and a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. She and her former husband, Henry Elmer Willisie, were divorced last year.

WHAT Is Double Gum-Dipped?
Car-owners are naturally interested in just what the double gum-dipping process means in tire-building. For its importance to mileage performance has attracted attention everywhere.
This improved process in cord tire construction is rarely found in other than Firestone Cords. Extremely difficult to carry out, most tire manufacturers consider its expense prohibitive.
Yet Firestone has now so perfected and simplified gum-dipping, that notwithstanding their many advantages, Firestone Cords cost no more.
By this process the cord fabric is dipped in a heavy solution of liquid gum or rubber. When thoroughly saturated it is removed and allowed to dry. Thin coats of sheeted rubber are then pressed upon each side of the cord fabric in a process called "calendering." Thus there is double assurance that each separate cord is completely submerged in live, springy rubber.
The deterioration of tires caused by internal friction is well known by experienced car owners. Excessive heat is generated that literally burns away many miles of service.
In Firestone Cords, internal wear is practically eliminated. Gum-dipping makes them stronger and more resilient. It is largely responsible for the buoyance and easy-riding Firestone users experience.
There is a good dealer near you who sells and services Firestone Cords. Go to him this month if you are looking for the way to reduce your tire costs.

ALL CLASSES IN BRITAIN AFFECTED BY TAX REDUCTION

Rate on Beer Cut 2 Cent and Public Houses A Crowded With Work Seeking Cheap Drink.

$170,000,000 SLASH IN ANNUAL LEV

Married Man With $2500 come Will Save $30 $200,000,000 Payment United States Debt.

Special Cable to the Post-Dispatch and the Chicago Daily News, Copyright, 1935, LONDON, April 15.—In these days of excessive taxation, Great Britain annual budget day in the House of Commons, when the Chancellor of the Exchequer tells the country prospects for the coming year, comes almost the character of arrival of Santa Claus.

Stanley Baldwin, the Chancellor, last night was generous to all classes distributing impartially some relief from taxation, direct or indirect.

In response to his action in reducing the cost of beer by a penny (cents) a pint, every beer wagon in London today is mobbed. Gt. Britain's heavy budget has been hitting through the streets since last night, supplying the bars with stocks at the new prices.

When the public houses open for the new going to work early drinkers were crowded with jovial drinkers enjoying their favorite stage at a reasonable price for first time since the war.

From the point of view of great working population this reduction is of prime importance, shadowing every other item in the Chancellor's heavy budget.

To the middle classes, Baldwin livered a prize package in the form of an income tax reduction of 12 cents on the pound (cents) on income of $2,000 a year. This represents a saving more than $25 for an unmarried man, and of more than $30 for a married man, while on income of $10,000 it saves married men $70 annually.

Cut in Telephone Tax. Another extremely important reduction was contained in the budget for telephones, which next July will cost a user $2.50 year less than at the present rate the telephone system is under government control this reduction will be taken from the savings of departments under the Postoffice, the telephones have been heavily under Government ownership.

Even for American firms operating in Great Britain, Chancellor Baldwin brought a neat present in the form of a reduction of the corporate profit tax of six pence on the pound. Several big American firms supplying the British market with various find in this reduction a tremendous saving, opening up the possibilities of doing business on a larger scale.

By sidestepping the issue of imposition of a tax on betting, Baldwin performed the cleverest maneuver of all, throwing the responsibility for the tax upon a select group of those who were appointed immediately to take the responsibility on their own shoulders, his would have faced almost certain defeat at the next election by every church organization and labor society would have to consider what they consider a violation of the moral code—namely, legalization of a business they consider wrong. If the committee recommends taxing bets it will take another out of party politics.

$170,000,000 Tax Reduction. Altogether, the Chancellor cut $170,000,000 in taxes with hand while with the other he added $200,000,000 to the budget deficit. Chiefly the American debt, this last year he meets the government's many economists believe that the country should have the benefit of the treasury for the remission of taxes.

The last year, argument around that the nation's economy must be increased before further sums are applied to deflation. They would allow it to put up while giving financiers an opportunity of finding the supplies of ready money which to buy foreign securities.

Conference on Cautious. The Associated Press, April 17, American Farm Bureau Fed will invite industrial and members of the United States to a conference on the subject of discussing the proposed action of the St. Lawrence River matters of great interest to the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence Association, announced yesterday.

PLAN FOR LIMITING DEBATE DEVISED
BY BOARD OF ALDERMEN
Committee on Rules Submits
Report Recommending Time Limits on Speeches.

By the Jefferson City Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, April 17.—A movement to confine debate in the Constitution Convention within reasonable limits had made real progress
today, with report to the committee on Rules, of which Polite Elvins of Boone, Terre is chairman, recommending time limits on speeches. The chairman of a committee on presenting his report, one hour, upon speakers discussing that report in general debate, 30 minutes, upon delegates offering amendments, 10 minutes in opening and five minutes in closing;
upon delegates discussing amendments, five minutes.

Other suggested changes would provide that no speaker having been heard once could be heard again until all delegates desiring to be heard had spoken. Thirty members would constitute a quorum, instead of 42,
as at present.

Five steps would be eliminated from consideration of the report of the Committee on Phraseology and Arrangement, after it has polished
the language of propositions drafted by the convention, before their first passage.

This report, which will be considered this afternoon or tomorrow, was delivered at the present time, Wednesday at the reopening of the convention after its winter recess, necessitated
by the legislative session.

After Elvins had presented the report of the Rules Committee, Mrs.
W. W. Martin, chairman of the committee on Education, began an exposition of the report of that committee to the Convention Committee of the Whole, Arthur V. Jachy of St.
Louis County being designated chairman of the Committee of the Whole for the time.

Recommendations Made.
Two of the principal changes advocated by the committee, in the present State educational system, are substitution of an elective State Board of Education of six members, elected by the voters, for the present State Board, and the replacing of the present elective State Superintendent of Education with a State Commissioner of Education appointed by the State Board of Education.

CRIPPLED CHILDREN
FROM 13 STATES
TO ATTEND CLINIC
Total Number of Applications for Free Treatment Offered by St. Louis Medical Society Now 126.

NURSES REPORT ON INDIVIDUAL CASES
Automobile Club Members to Aid in Transporting Children to Examinations,
Which Open Next Monday

Names of crippled children from 13 states have come to the St. Louis Medical Society in response to its offer of free medical, surgical and hospital treatment of the crippled children of parents unable to pay for their proper care. The total number of applications now is 126, approximately half of which are from outside St. Louis.

The children will be examined by a group of orthopedic surgeons, general surgeons, pediatricians and neurologists, to determine what treatment is necessary in each case. The examinations will be held on Monday and Tuesday, April 23, 24 and 25, in the St. Louis Medical Society, 3525 Pine street. Names must be in the mail by next Thursday.

New Aldermen have not first been submitted to the society will not be received in the clinic.
This ruling is to permit the municipal nurses to visit the homes of all children before clinic days to determine from parents the history of the child's ailment and other facts essential for the information of the examining physicians if accurate understanding of the cases is to be had and treatment is to be most beneficial.

Nurses in Preliminary Work.
The entire staff of municipal nurses is being assigned this work to visit to the homes of crippled children. Last year, by extraordinary effort, the nurses obtained a report on the cases of every child submitted to the society and in many cases returned to the homes on clinic days to aid mothers in preparing the children for the examination.

At last year, also, the Automobile Club of Missouri has arranged its rule against undertaking transportation tasks and is calling for volunteers among car owners for assignment to bring one or more children to the clinic. The club's plan is to send their names to the Automobile Club of Missouri, 2330 Locust street.

51 Physicians in Clinic.
Out-of-town children will be met at Union Station by other automobiles which will carry them to the society. Mothers bringing in children will be met by workers of the "Travelers' Aid Society," who will watch for incoming children on all trains during the three days of the clinic.

The Committee on Public Health and Instruction of the Medical Society has notified a total of 51 physicians of their assignment to the examination clinic during the three days. Those children whose condition demands hospital care will be admitted to the hospital for public treatment for so long a period as may be necessary. Some children examined last year received as long as a year's hospital care.

World Court Advocates Urge a Step More Drastic Than Joining League, Cecil Says

"They Say Every Dispute Must Be Submitted to the Court. We (of the League) Say Every Dispute Must Be Submitted to Some Sort of Mediation."

By MARGUERITE MARTIN.
Those who hesitate at the League of Nations as an entangling alliance and who still would join a world court and a court with penalties attached such as the world outlawry implies, don't seem to realize it, but they are advocating an even more drastic step than those who merely are contending for the League of Nations. This is the opinion gathered from statements made to me by Lord Robert Cecil at Des Moines.

It was the day of Senator Borah's reply to the speeches of Lord Robert Cecil that I had an opportunity for an interview with the English statesman. He was moved by his regret at not being able to include St. Louis in his Western schedule to set aside an hour in a busy day to talk to a reporter for the Post-Dispatch. He had made four speeches that day and was yet to address in the evening his first mass meeting in the Middle West.

As I entered the reception room provided for him at the Des Moines Club, I found him buried in newspapers and so absorbed that his secretary had to touch him on the arm to make him aware of the presence of his visitor, though my entrance had not been devoid of noisy chatter, what with two young and lively secretaries passing me along.

There was a lingering expression of amusement, I thought, as he put down the newspaper and this only gradually faded from his face as he read, made a few corrections with fountain pen, and signed a typed message of greeting, which he wished me to convey to the people of St. Louis.

The League and the Court.
When I asked if he had found anything particularly interesting in the newspapers, he replied that he had read a criticism which, taken alone, in the interest of avoiding personalities, he could not reply to, but to which, taken as representative of a school thought, he could say.
"Those who talk of the outlawry of war and the penalties involved in such a course would take a more violent step in one direction than those of us who stand merely for the League of Nations. We are less impatient than they."

"They say every dispute must be submitted to the court. We say every dispute must be submitted to some sort of mediation."
"In going into the court you are bound by its decisions absolutely and irrevocably. It is expected to be an impartial court, to be sure, a court in which you have no particular friend. All nations have an equal chance in the court. The judges are chosen partly with relation to nationality, but first with relation to their personal fitness."

"Now while this fact contains that every dispute must be submitted to the court for a final adjustment, we of the League of Nations say merely every dispute must be submitted to some form of mediation. The whole covenant of the League of Nations is concluded with the object of encouraging nations to get together in the effort to understand each other, to work together for a given purpose, but still remain free to act as they please."

"As to 'entanglements,' he continued, 'a friend of mine in this country the other day coined a distinct phrase. He said, 'It is a distasteful alliance.'"

WILL BE REPLACED

Money to Be Used in Equipping Service Building at Training School for the Feeble Minded.

An immediate start on one of the hospital improvements in the bond issue program, by temporary appropriation from other funds until bond issue proceeds become available through sale of bonds, is provided for a bill introduced in the Board of Aldermen today, authorizing an appropriation of $99,750 for equipping a service building now being constructed at the St. Louis Training School for Feeble Minded.

The bill was approved by the Board of Public Service in a meeting today, previous to the aldermanic session, and transferred to the Board of Aldermen with a recommendation for passage.

This was one of five hospital measures approved recently by the Citizens' Supervisory Committee on Bond Issue Expenditures, totaling $432,250. The five bills were not introduced in the Board of Aldermen at the last session, because no funds were available.

To Reimburse Fund Later.
With the start of the new fiscal year, which began April 10, 1 percent of the revenue is set aside for hospital building fund. It is proposed to take the $99,750 from this fund and reimburse the fund when the 1923 allotment of $2,000,000 is sold from the $7,372,500 bond revenue voted last February for hospital improvements. The Controller has estimated preparations for the first bond sale will require until the latter part of July or early in August.

The service building at the Training School for Feeble Minded, on the Bellevue farm, north of the city, is being constructed at an estimated cost of $136,261, from proceeds of a bond issue voted in May, 1922. It will be completed probably by September. The bill approved by the Board of Public Service today provides $99,750 from the 1923 bond issue for equipment of the building, installation of a heating and lighting
plant, a refrigerating plant, a kitchen, laundry and construction of steam main connecting with other buildings.

Dormitories Being Built.
The dormitories are being constructed from the 1926 bond issue at a cost of $255,475, and will be finished this summer.

Two ordinances authorizing the Board of Estimate and Apportionment to sell the bonds, on a fixed schedule extending over 10 years, have been prepared and are in the hands of the board. They probably will be forwarded to the Board of Aldermen this week.

Lord Cecil's Greeting and Message to St. Louis

IT is with great regret that I have been obliged to refuse the very kind invitations which I have received to visit the city of St. Louis. Nothing but a very heavily burdened schedule of engagements would have prevented me from accepting these invitations. I have long had a great desire to visit the great cities of the Western and Southern states, and most particularly the city of St. Louis.

It would have been a particular privilege to be able to discuss with gatherings of the citizens of St. Louis the present international situation and the remedies which we in Europe
believe to be urgently required.
The great war was in every way
a disaster to our civilization.
It has left the world wounded and bleeding. Not only are material reconstruction and national disarmament required, if we are to return to a stable condition of peace, but moral and spiritual reconstruction and disarmament are equally and vitally needed. We must restore our old standards of right and wrong.
We must bury the hatreds. We must obliterate our so-called historic enmities. We must get rid of the hatreds which have left engendered and which bring the peoples of the world, and particularly the peoples of Europe,

to realize, not merely that they have common interests, but that they are part of the one indivisible family of humanity, and that their whole relationship must be based on the fundamental principle of brotherhood, if they are to get rid of war and thereby save Western civilization from destruction.

This is, as I conceive it, the fundamental purpose of the League of Nations. To get rid of the atmosphere, the emotions and the memories of war, and to substitute for them an atmosphere of peace and habits
and traditions of co-operation.
So far as my experience of its working goes, the league has already accomplished a great deal in this respect. It is no idle pharmaceutical to speak of the "Geneva atmosphere." It is a very real factor in the discussion of the Assembly and the Council and the commissions of the league, a factor which determines not only the course and nature of which these discussions lead. I believe profoundly that it is only by taking international affairs to such an atmosphere as this, and by there dealing with them by methods of impartiality, equality and open debate,
that real peace can be restored and permanently preserved.

PRICES IRREGULAR IN LARGER TRADE ON STOCK MARKET

Industrial Issues Firm in the Main and Rails as Group
Up Fractionally—Bond
Market Firm—Exchange
Dull.

By Leonard Wire from the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 17.—The Exchange today in its opening financial review today.

The stock market gave some indications today that it is ready to break away from its stagnation of the past two weeks. The volume of trading was larger and while quotations were somewhat irregular, declines were for the most part confined to the shares of companies which are currently affected by some special conditions. The industrial issues were firm in the main and the rails as a group advanced moderately. The bond market was firm, all varieties holding well at or slightly above recent current levels. Cash money opened at 2 percent, about 12-15 percent was loaned at 3 1/2 percent, but the 5 percent rate was restored during the last half hour.

Exchange is irregular.

The foreign exchange market showed considerable irregularity. Good demand from importers for sterling bills caused the pound to advance 1/4 cent to 14 1/4. Meanwhile, French and German currencies were weak, notwithstanding press reports from Paris and Berlin that a new move toward a reparations agreement was under way. French francs at 437 cents showed a loss of 7 points and German marks like a cent, rose moved in sympathy with francs declining 2 1/2 points to 452 cents.

The commodity markets showed renewed firmness after yesterday's weakness. The Liverpool market for cotton was somewhat firmer, spot demand improved and weather conditions in the cotton belt were again reported as unfavorable. In addition, there was a natural tendency for the market to swing back from the reaction of the day before and the active futures market advanced about 20 points. The May delivery at 23 1/2 cents was up 2 1/2 points for the day.

There was also considerable recovery in wheat as traders came to realize that they had completely misinterpreted the Supreme Court decision yesterday on the grain futures act. The erroneous idea that this decision was a blow to the wheat market had caused heavy liquidation with wheat losing about 24 cents during the day's trading. The market followed today by a rally, which was not sufficient, however, to cancel the losses of the previous day. May wheat at $1.25 was up 1 1/2 cents from the previous closing price.

Index Number Change.

While the general level of wholesale prices as shown by the index number of the Bureau of Labor Statistics registered only a moderate advance, March's decline was much irregularly in the movement of prices of different groups of commodities. There was a general advance in the price of building materials and metals and metal products groups, but these were offset somewhat by the decline in the fuel and lighting groups as a result of the fall in the price of bituminous coal. In the other commodity groups, the average increase for the month amounted to 1 1/2 percent. This is the most pronounced advance in this index since last November. Between November and January the index remained stationary at 86 percent above the 1914 level. Since January it has risen 35 percent above that level. There is nothing in the late figures to indicate that the inequalities between the different commodity groups are being corrected.

Wall Street News and Comment —SPECIAL DAILY—

By a Special Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 17.—No sustained effort was made today to attract an outside following, but the ease with which selected stocks were bid up one after another indicated the offerings around the recently current prices were not large.

Two points were made in connection with the advance in General Motors to 17, one the report that an advance in prices was coming, the other that present earnings justify an increase in dividends, and that this is not unreasonable to expect later on. Dupont, as the big holder of General Motors, naturally had another sharp upward jump. Steel common at one time was up a point.

Among the rails Canadian Pacific made a new high above 132 and Southern Railway rose on large transactions to 35, where it was only a half point away from the best of the year.

United States Realty and Reynolds Springs were features among the specialties.

Railway shares came in for more attention in the early part of the day, but were not as prominent in the late trading. In the last hour fresh selling broke out among some of the oil shares. Texas Pacific, Gulf and Oil dropped over a point. Weakness continued in the shipping stocks and in Computing Tabulating and Recording.

The bond market.

The feature in today's bond market was the strength in foreign issues, notably the franc. A new high for the year was recorded for French 8s, and the 7 1/2s were also firm. Today's price for the 1s represented a gain of 10 1/2 points from the low of 10 1/2 and 1 1/2 for the year.

ALL'S WELL.

WELL, I see you changed your mind.
Eddie Roush:
And the papers you have signed
Eddie Roush:
Like Gibraltar you have stood
But we always thought you would.
For the change will do you good.

THE BEST BET.

There seems to be a unanimity of opinion that if the Red Sox don't win the cellar championship this year, they'll be there or thereabouts.

The Cubs are the youngest team in either league. Indicating that in course of time they ought to be here.

The Pirates are singing in mid-season form and expect to have a voice in the disposition of the pennant.

The Anti-Saloon League is looking forward to such a dry season that no rain checks will be issued.

The Cardinals possess great uniform strength. They have the classiest uniforms in either league.

Let us have a World Court by all means. Then we can go to war over the site for the courthouse.

While of course the death of Marie, our rhinoceros, which occurred in New York, caused considerable disappointment, we are glad that she was considerate enough not to die on our hands.

It will be a couple of years before the girls who had their hair bobbed can have a permanent wave length.

TOO TRUE.

The cashiers fly.
We mourn the theft.
Another guy
Then takes what's left.

Howard Freigan, who is now in the transition stage from batboy to batsman, is a demon fielder. His batting will improve with age.

Judging by the activity of the run smugglers we take it that the three-man line is one of those imaginary lines we read about.

MY FAVORITE STORIES

By IRVIN S. COBB.

THE PASSIVE ROLE.

AS I look back on it, it seems to me I've been hearing various versions of this story ever since I was a babe in arms. But, as I have repeatedly stated before, I do not think age should be a bar to a yarn when it possesses merit.

It is set forth that during the Civil War a young officer in the Union army was taking a stroll along a road in Virginia when he met an old negro man and engaged him in conversation. The ancient darky returned such quaint answers to the Northerner's questions that the latter was moved to quiz him humorously.

"Uncle," he said, "you know, don't you, that this war between us and the Rebs is largely on your account?"

"Yes, sah, dat's what I done heard 'em say."

"Well, you crave to have your freedom, don't you?"

"I spect I does."

"Then why aren't you in the army yourself?"

The negro scratched his head reflectively.

"Boss," he said, at length, "did you ever see two dawgs fightin' over a bone?"

"Yes, many a time."

"Well, wuz de bone fightin'?"

BISHOP TUTTLE'S DEATH MOURNED IN ALL WALKS OF LIFE

Presiding Head of the Episcopal Church in America
Passes Away Peacefully
After Lingered Illness.

MANY MESSAGES RECEIVED BY FAMILY

Body to Lie in State at Christ Church From 10
A. M. Friday Until Time
of Funeral at 2 P. M.

Messages of affection and respect for Bishop Daniel Sylvester Tuttle, and of condolence to the surviving members of his family, were received today at the residence, 74 Vandeventer place, where the Bishop died yesterday afternoon, and at diocesan headquarters in Schuyler Memorial House.

The messages came from fellow-members of the House of Bishops of the Protestant Episcopal Church, over which Bishop Tuttle had presided by virtue of seniority for 26 years; and from men and women, both prominent and obscure, in and outside his church, who honored him for his personal character and his long service—54 years—in the episcopate.

Bishop Tuttle, who was 84 years old, had been ill with grip since the end of February. The office of senior and presiding Bishop ends with his passing as a Church Council, which will have charge of affairs of national church administration. As Bishop of Eastern Missouri, his successor is Bishop Frederick Foote Johnson, who has served as coadjutor here since 1911.

Body to Lie in State. Christ Church Cathedral, Thirteenth and Locust streets, will be the scene of the funeral, which is set for 2 p. m. Friday, and which is expected to attract a large crowd. A in Friday until the time of the service, the body will lie in state before the Cathedral altar, to be viewed by the public, while members of the diocese form a guard of honor.

In accordance with an expressed wish of Bishop Tuttle, there will be no sermon at the funeral. The order of the church for burial of the dead will be read, and hymns will be sung by the choir. At the grave in Bellefontaine Cemetery, the service will be private.

Memorial addresses will be deferred until a later occasion, probably about two weeks hence, when it is planned to hold a public meeting in the cathedral.

Survived by Two Sons. Two sons surviving the Bishop are Dr. George Marvin Tuttle of 4917 Maryland avenue, who, with Dr. Albert Tausig, attended the Bishop through his illness; and Arthur Tuttle, a mining engineer, living in the City of Mexico, who has been here for two weeks past. Mrs. Tuttle died in 1929. Her sisters, Mrs. Sarah White and Mrs. G. D. Miller, the latter being the widow of a St. Louis clergyman, have been in charge of the Bishop's home in recent years. The burial will be beside the body of the late Bishop Williams of Detroit under the altar of St. Paul's Cathedral here. There is no present indication that this plan will be considered in Bishop Tuttle's case.

Shortly after 2 p. m. yesterday one of the bells in the Cathedral tower began to toll off 86, the number of the Bishop's years on earth. His death occurred at 1:45 p. m.

Illness Began Feb. 28. On the day before he had contracted the funeral of Mrs. Kate M. Howard, one of the leading supporters of the Cathedral and of diocesan work, and had accompanied the family to the grave in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

For the first week it was believed that he might recover, as he had recovered from previous indispositions. With the second week of the illness, it became clearer that his strength was not sufficient to insure recovery. After the second week the work of the physicians and nurses became waiting an end which was felt to be inevitable.

Coadjutor Bishop Johnson, a daily visitor to his aged superior, prayed with him every morning and prayed with him on the days when Bishop Tuttle was unconscious. On Wednesday March 25, Bishop Tuttle received, for the last time, the sacrament of holy communion, as he was seldom fully conscious, no opportunity for further of the sacrament appeared. It is the practice of the Episcopal Church to continue on Page 2, Column 2.
